Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Market risks comprise three types of changes in market prices. Market Risk comprises three types of risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk. Financial Instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits, FVTOCI investments.

The sensitivity analysis in the following sections relate to the positions as at March 31, 2019 and March 31, 2018, March 31, 2017.

Potential Impact of Risk	Management Policy	Sensitivity to Risk
Price Risk
The Company is not exposed to any specific price risk.	Not Applicable	Not Applicable
Interest Rate Risk
Interest Rate Risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long and short term debt obligations with floating interest rate.	In order to manage its interest rate risk. The Company diversifies its portfolio in accordance with the limits set by the risk management policies.	As an estimation of the approximate impact of the interest risk, with respect to financial instruments, the Group has calculated the impact of a 0.25% change in the interest rates. A 0.25% increase in interest rates would have led to an equal but opposite effect.

38.3 Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from the deposits with banks and financial institutions and other financial instruments.

38.4 Trade Receivables

Customer Credit risk is managed by each business unit subject to the company established policy, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Credit quality of a customer is assessed based on an extensive credit rating scorecard and individual credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored at March 31, 2019.

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date on an individual basis for major clients. In addition, a large number of minor receivables are grouped into homogenous groups and assessed for impairment collectively. The calculation is based on exchange losses historical data. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying value of each class of financial assets. The company does not hold collateral as security. The company evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and industries and operates in largely independent markets.

39. Capital Management

Capital includes issued equity capital and share premium and all other equity reserves attributable to the equity holders. The primary objective of the company's capital management is to maximize the shareholder value.

The company manage its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions and the requirements of financial conventions. The company monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt, interest bearing loans and borrowings, trade and other payables, less cash and cash equivalents, excluding discontinued operations. The company monitors capital using gearing ratio, which is total debts divided by total capital plus debts. In order to achieve this overall objective, the company's capital management amongst other things, aims to ensure that it meets financial conventions attached to the interest-bearing loans and borrowings that define capital structure requirements. Breaches in meeting the financial conventions would permit the bank to immediately call loans and borrowings. There have been no breaches in the financial conventions of any interest-bearing loans and borrowing in the current year.

No Changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years ended March 31, 2019, March 31, 2018, March 31, 2017.
